TrueGuard: Product Safety Info

You already have the paperwork for your clients' products — it's just sitting in supplier PDFs and email threads. TrueGuard reads those documents and drafts the manufacturer, EU responsible-person (if the documents name one) and safety-warning details for each product; your client reviews and approves every value. Useful on an EU-catalog cleanup: it turns a pile of supplier paperwork into a reviewable draft instead of a manual copy-paste pass.

Planned for the Shopify App Store — not yet available to install. Free at launch.

HOW IT WORKS

1 · UPLOAD
Attach a supplier PDF or label photo to one product, or a SKU-prefix family (up to 50).

2 · REVIEW
AI drafts each field; for the manufacturer's name and address it shows the quote it used.

3 · APPROVE
Nothing reaches the product page until approved. Each approval is logged: who, when, which document.

4 · SHOW
Approved details appear in a product-page block on Online Store 2.0 themes.

WHERE IT FITS IN YOUR WORK

- Catalog cleanups for clients selling into the EU, where supplier paperwork is scattered across PDFs and shared drives.
- Catalog reviews that need a status view of which products in a catalog do not yet have approved details.
- Ongoing catalog hygiene — common English eco phrases like "eco-friendly" are flagged on products with a record for your client to review; the app never rewrites their copy.

WHAT IT DOES NOT DO

It does not give legal advice and does not guarantee that any product meets any regulation — suggestions are AI-generated and your client reviews and approves every value. It does not act as an EU responsible person or an EPR provider. It does not rewrite product copy; it only flags wording for review.

ALSO WORTH KNOWING

Panel labels are English only; a safety warning shows in the shopper's language only when the client's own documents include one in that language. Customs suggestions cover US HTS codes only, applied to a product's first variant, and nothing is applied until your client clicks. The product-page block needs an Online Store 2.0 theme; review and approval works on any theme.
